

Clever Handling of Samuri at Start Proves Big Factor

MOTIVE POWER TOO GREAT NEAR FINISH

Increasing Wind Finally Is So Strong It Carries Away Margaret's Gaff.

BUD JUST HOME IN FRONT

Forty-three yachts started in the annual regatta of the Harlem Yacht Club, which was sailed yesterday on the Sound. The wind was fitful until late in the afternoon and the yachtsmen thought themselves lucky that they were able to finish.

The starting line was off Execution Rock, and on account of lack of wind the start was postponed forty-five minutes. Then a very light southwest wind made it a reach to the first mark off Parsonage Point. After turning this mark a series of calms and flukes made the journey to Motts Point very tedious and slow. Then the wind came steady and increased in strength until it was able to carry away the gaff of Clifford D. Mallory's Class R sloop Margaret. At the time of the accident the Margaret was making a keen fight for first place with Commodore W. H. Childs' Joyous and A. G. Hill's New York. The Bud won the race by 11 seconds. She was sailed by L. de B. Handley.

George P. Granberry's 31 rater Anita led the fleet across the finishing line, defeating R. B. Stoddard's Amoret by 2 minutes 17 seconds. The Wianno, which was expected to start in the class, was stolen from her moorings last week.

L. H. Hall's Carolina won the first handicap division, beating R. B. Stoddard's Anna by 1 minute 37 seconds.

In the second division A. E. Black's Sally IV won easily and the Nymph was the third place winner.

The Stars, as usual, furnished an interesting race, and this time Charles G. Davis sailed the Neptune to victory, defeating the Little Dipper by 2 minutes 2 seconds. Davis won by hugging close to the Long Island shore before reaching the second mark. There were six starters in the Star class. The summaries:

CAMBRIDGE, May 31.—In the Harvard regatta on the Charles, which was contested today, Nobis and Greenough of Boston won the two eight oared events for the schools, taking the interscholastic race in the morning by two lengths and beating the Boston all interscholastic eight by three-quarters of a length in the afternoon. The Union Boat Club four oared crew was beaten by the Weld Boat Club of Harvard in the morning, but in an octuple race in the afternoon Union beat Weld by five lengths.

Paul Withington of Harvard boat Darling, the Carroll cup winner, in singles, Dr. J. B. Ayer of Henley fame was third.
